Community Service Program for Ogden Offers Recreation

Community Service workers in Osden have outlined an extensive program for Ogden and one which will give the city every phase of recreation according to those in charge. H. W.
Arbury, in charge of the work here in speaking of the proposed program yesterday said in part.

"Someone has said that three great things come out of the world war, government insurance. American Legion and Community Service. All of the said of with the leisure time field exclusively and when we consider that there is a greater amount of leisure time work done, it is clearly discerned how wide a field Community Service is endeavorlins to cover.

"The idea of Community Service is not new. It is rather a revival of a very old plan for the development of neighborliness and to teach us how to play. We have been so busy in making a living that we have forgetten low to live. Community Service is a greater get-together movement.
Community Service is on of the foundation stones in its structure.
